Ryan Bomberger is an Emmy® Award-winning creative professional, international public speaker, columnist, and activist. He is the author of the powerful books, Not Equal: Civil Rights Gone Wrong, and groundbreaking illustrated children's books, She Is She and He is He. Ryan is the co-founder and Chief Creative Officer of RadianceFoundation.org, a life-affirming organization that illuminates that every human life has purpose. As an adoptive father, Ryan has a rather unique perspective of the innate nature of purpose. He is one of ten children who were adopted in a diverse family of fifteen.

Ryan loves creating content that is fearless, factual and freeing. His work addresses abortion, adoption, fatherlessness, racism, sexuality, free speech, religious liberty and the War on Common Sense. His work has been extensively featured in the The New York Times, Fox News, MSNBC, Breitbart, ABC News, The Washington Times, The Washington Post, The Christian Post, Newsweek, CNN, Townhall, EWTN, JET, LA Times, Yahoo News, World, and many more news outlets. From keynotes at renown locations like Harvard, Princeton, Columbia Law School, University of Notre Dame, Ireland's Trinity College, March for Life DC, March for Life UK, Capitol Hill briefings, and hundreds more events here and abroad. Ryan is dedicated, along with his amazing wife and four children, to building a culture that values Life in all of its stages.

Our Fight in 2025

BY: JULIE DIXON
FIRST CHOICE WOMEN'S CENTER NURSE

The headline read, “Kentucky Abortion Pill Ads Spark Strong Response from Care Net Center.”¹

The story that follows should indeed spark strong responses. Abortion has been illegal in the state of Kentucky since 2022. Today, illegal abortions are as close as an online internet search or a phone call. Mayday Health is an organization founded by Olivia Raisner, Nathaniel Horwitz, and Sam Koppelman in 2022 following the Dobbs decision which overturned Roe v. Wade. Its main mission is to provide abortion access to states like Kentucky where their state legislatures and constituents have voted to limit this access. And it's not just Kentucky. Georgia is in its crosshairs as well. They target women in these limited-access states with fliers, social media posts and merchandise they sell such as hoodies that proclaim, “You can still get abortion pills in all 50 states.” First Choice Women's Center has not been immune to the reach of groups such as this. We have seen clients who have been connected to abortion clinics in states like Massachusetts through organizations like Mayday Health. We see these clients in our Center and determine through ultrasound that they are past the legal limit for abortion in the state of Georgia and then they go on to have abortions through an abortion clinic over 1,000 miles away. They make contact online and have the pills sent to their mailbox in a matter of days. How does this happen? Through something called shield laws. These are “abortionist legal shields,” established by executive order and/or statute, immunizing abortionists and abortion “facilitators” from criminal, civil, and professional consequences when they violate other states’ abortion laws, including laws requiring parental involvement in a minor’s abortion decision.² As of August, 2025, there were 19 states that have broad abortion protection statutes. In essence, these shield laws nullify the laws we have worked hard to put into place to protect women and babies by limiting abortion access in the state of Georgia. It places women at risk from complications arising from the abortion drugs, it allows human traffickers easy access to these drugs, it removes parental involvement and more.

So, what can we do? We know that Texas is leading the way policy-wise. They recently passed a “bounty hunter” provision which gives a monetary award to those who bring a lawsuit and are not related to any part of the pregnancy.³ We can do this in Georgia too! Reach out to your state legislators and Georgia Attorney General and respectfully but firmly encourage them to fight against these shield laws in other states. We can spread the word by talking to others to make sure people understand that this is our fight. But, most importantly, remember that this is a spiritual battle. God creates human life in His own image and therefore Satan will stop at nothing to destroy it. Pray that God will awaken hearts to the plight of the unborn. Pray for revival. And pray for God's mercy.

Little Hands Make A Big Impact

At the Center, one way we celebrate new life is by giving our clients a gift of a baby blanket with every positive pregnancy test. It's our way of declaring to this young mother that the life growing inside of her is something to be excited about no matter the circumstances.

Every year, students from Lafayette Christian School participate in Community Work Day. It is a day where the students go out into the community to provide a needed service. Whether it is singing at a nursing home, providing home maintenance for the less fortunate or cleaning a church building, they go out to share the love of Christ with those in our community. We feel immensely blessed to be able to benefit from this service. Every year, second graders from LCS come to the Center to donate baby blankets. Each blanket has a hand-written Bible verse attached. This has brought much joy to our clients!

Thank you, Lafayette Christian School, for your generous gift to First Choice Women's Center! You are teaching the next generation to stand up for and celebrate the sanctity of human life! If you would like to donate baby blankets, you can purchase them through our Amazon gift registry. You can also purchase gender neutral receiving blankets from any retail store and drop off at the center.
